

I want YOU
to protect your devices and data

April 21, 2017

7:00 p.m.

Fair Lawn Senior Center

CYBER SECURITY AND YOU

While the internet is a vast world of opportunity, there are also a number of dangers lurking beyond all that useful information, videos and on-line shopping.

Hackers, using an ever-growing variety of techniques, are working hard to steal the personal information — and money — from unsuspecting people whenever they can.

According to the FTC.gov website, "the FTC received over 490,000 consumer complaints about identity theft in 2015." And statistics show that this number is growing, year over year.

This event will feature a presentation on the growing topic of cyber security & both its personal and local impacts.

Matthew Ryffel K2NUD of Wyckoff is a manager of cyber security. His technical background includes more than 30 years in information technology, the computer industry and the healthcare industry. He will focus on the following topics --

- What is cyber security;
why is it important to critical economic sectors like healthcare?
- What are the current cyber security threats?
- What technology is used in cyber security?
- How do you stay safe?
The human behavior aspect of cyber security.

This event is sponsored by the Fair Lawn Amateur Radio Club (W2NPT).

It is open to the public and will be a general discussion, not specific just to amateur radio. Everyone will find this presentation informative and enlightening! Bring family.

FREE admission and FREE refreshments!

Friday - April 21st - 7:00 p.m.

Fair Lawn SENIOR CENTER
11-05 Gardiner Road
Fair Lawn, NJ
